Minutes Exhibit D
Port Commission Regular Meeting of March 13, 2018

Emerald City
DRIVERS ASSOCIATION

We Want To Pay The Port Directly.

Taxi and for-hire drivers provide a valuable service to our community. It's time to ensure that all drivers can earn a living wage and not be exploited by high fees. We ask that the Port immediately allow drivers to use the same system as thousands of other Washingtonians. By paying directly via the Good-to-Go system, drivers avoid discrepancies between trips completed and trips paid for. In 2016, the Port of Seattle reported that cost of recovery for on-demand taxi trips was $1.73 per trip. The number of drivers has increased exponentially driving down costs to the Port while services for drivers have not improved. There is no reason to continue forcing small business owners to pay through a system that costs too much and offers no benefits to workers, The Port or the public. The Port's 2017 audit of the on-demand contract showed drivers are currently owed more than $715,000! Stop Exploitation. Increase transparency, increase accountability, let drivers pay direct.

We Want To Pay The Port Directly.

Taxi and for-hire drivers provide a valuable service to our community. It's time to ensure that all drivers can earn a living wage and not be exploited by high fees. We ask that the Port immediately allow drivers to use the same system as thousands of other Washingtonians. By paying directly via the Good-to-Go system, drivers avoid discrepancies between trips completed and trips paid for. In 2016, the Port of Seattle reported that cost of recovery for on-demand taxi trips was $1.73 per trip. The number of drivers has increased exponentially driving down costs to the Port while services for drivers have not improved. There is no reason to continue forcing small business owners to pay through a system that costs too much and offers no benefits to workers, The Port or the public. The Port's 2017 audit of the on-demand contract showed drivers are currently owed more than $715,000! Stop Exploitation. Increase transparency, increase accountability, let drivers pay direct.

We Want To Pay The Port Directly.

Taxi and for-hire drivers provide a valuable service to our community. It's time to ensure that all drivers can earn a living wage and not be exploited by high fees. We ask that the Port immediately allow drivers to use the same system as thousands of other Washingtonians. By paying directly via the Good-to-Go system, drivers avoid discrepancies between trips completed and trips paid for. In 2016, the Port of Seattle reported that cost of recovery for on-demand taxi trips was $1.73 per trip. The number of drivers has increased exponentially driving down costs to the Port while services for drivers have not improved. There is no reason to continue forcing small business owners to pay through a system that costs too much and offers no benefits to workers, The Port or the public. The Port's 2017 audit of the on-demand contract showed drivers are currently owed more than $715,000! Stop Exploitation. Increase transparency, increase accountability, let drivers pay direct.
